

The Shamanic Journey of Marie Feuer

Visionary, Mystic, Healer, and Guide to the Spirit Realms

Early Beginnings - NYC (1956-1969)

At the tender age of four, I was asked what I wished to be when I grew up. "What can I be?" I asked her. My mother confidently informed me that I could be anything. After two days of deep searching, I chose my life wish: to be a cat, especially as this meant I could have and raise kittens.

Loving and connecting with animals I have always been drawn to caring for and loving vulnerable, tender souls. From a young age, I have also been a vessel for change when witnessing any kind of oppression or abuse. I wanted to be a beacon, a shining light, a safe place for those beings oppressed by the earthly forces of hatred and fear.

As a young soul, I campaigned for civil rights in the days of segregation, and against the genocide of our First Nations Peoples and the illegal cruel war in Vietnam. It was there, in the flames of resistance, that I first encountered the deep currents of spiritual awakening—an invitation to walk the path of light and transformation.

The Awakening: Sioux Lands and Sacred Teachings (1970-1976)

I answered the call of the Earth herself and journeyed to the lands of the First Nations, where the medicine ways of the Lakota Sioux and other sacred tribes beckoned me. At Wounded Knee, I met the great Medicine Man Henry Crow Dog and his son, Leonard, whose teachings opened the portals of sacred energy, transforming my very being. I walked the red roads with these powerful spirit guides, absorbing the profound wisdom of the ancient ones. Through sacred rituals, vision quests, and encounters with the spirits of the land, I learned to journey through the unseen realms, to heal, to divine, and to awaken the soul to its true purpose.

Mystic Apprenticeships and Celestial Learning (1976-1986)

Under the guidance of Marta and Walter Burleigh, I entered into deep esoteric studies that unlocked the ancient secrets of the universe. Their teachings, rooted in the wisdom of Pythagoras and the lost arts of energy manipulation, awakened my ability to traverse dimensions, heal with the mind, and wield the power of the cosmos. It was during this time that I practiced Radionics, energy healing, and interdimensional travel, learning to commune with energies beyond time and space.

My studies led me to the work of numerous metaphysical teachers, psychics, and healers—each of whom imparted their gifts: astrology, numerology, past life regression, crystal healing, and the forgotten magic of Earth Spirits. My connection to Nature Spirits deepened, and I became a channel for the unseen forces that flow through all living beings, offering transformative experiences through vortexes and elemental magic.

Initiation into Ancient Chinese Mysticism and Remote Healing (1986-Present)

In Los Angeles, I underwent a powerful initiation under the tutelage of Wong Loh Sin See, a channelled spirit of extraordinary wisdom. The practices taught to me were passed down orally, unlocking forgotten methods of energy healing and remote spiritual work that have remained hidden from the modern world. These teachings have no written records, only sacred oral transmissions that vibrate through the very soul.

During this time, I also delved into the mysteries of Traditional Chinese Medicine, quantum healing, homeopathy, and spiritual kinesiology. My healing practices expanded to include advanced techniques in medical intuition, entity removal, and the retrieval of lost souls. I was also guided by Huichol Shamans, learning their sacred dances and the powerful ceremonies that invoke the spirits of the Earth and the ancestors.

The Path of the Soul: Healing and Teaching (2012-Present)

In 2012, I established Life Path Healings in the heart of Yucaipa, California. There, I began to teach the sacred art of energy-based meditation, guiding souls to develop the inner strength required to traverse the unseen worlds. My teachings were designed to prepare individuals for deep soul work, unlocking their ability to communicate with their higher selves, their guides, and the unseen realms.

By 2016, I had developed my own system of spiritual healing based on Parts Work (now codified as the method named Internal Family Systems). This technique, a fusion of clairvoyant “sensing”, energy healing and psychological insight, allows me to guide souls through profound transformation—aligning them with their true essence and purpose.

As I continue to offer clairvoyant readings and energy work, my focus has shifted to helping individuals navigate their soul’s evolution, providing deeper insights into their karmic journey and spiritual destiny. These readings are not merely divination; they are soul-healing rituals designed to guide each person toward their highest potential.
